

Application to Gesher Group

Gesher is a unique on-campus organization. We offer what many others on campus can't: real, applicable experience in the field. With Gesher, you'll be a part of impactful consulting projects with firms like the Ritz-Carlton and Logitech . You'll build practical knowledge, and earn a background that will impress future employers. If you're hard-working, creative, and always looking for a challenge, we're looking forward to interviewing you.

Before we meet up in person, tell us a little bit about yourself, so we have a better understanding of you, and what you'll bring to Gesher.

What do you know about Gesher Group? Why are you interested in joining?

Let's imagine you have an impossibly busy day ahead of you. You are required to finish multiple tasks by the end of the day, and there is no conceivable way that you can finish them. How would you handle this situation?

Teamwork is a crucial aspect of the work we do do. Write about a time you worked in a team, and disagreed with someone. How did you handle it? What was the result?

What are your career goals or aspirations, and how do you believe Gesher Group can strengthen those goals?

What are the qualities of a good team?

What does your class schedule and availability look like for Spring Quarter?

Finally, how can we reach you?

Full name:

Phone number:

UCSC email:

Est. graduation year:

We'll email you when we've reviewed your application - usually it takes about a week. Even if you are not accepted this quarter, we strongly encourage you to apply again. Even if your application doesn't make it past this round, we love to see change. If you can show personal growth and development, we'll weigh your candidacy more highly.

Make sure to email this document to team@geshergroup.org, with a resume attached.

Thanks for applying to Gesher Group. We look forward to reading your application.
